HOME RULE AND PROMOTION

CASTRO-SILVA FELLING RUNS HIGH

REPUBLICANS HAVE A TOO LIVELY MEETING IN THE PORTUGUESE DISTRICT.

Portuguese made something of a "rough house" at the Republican meeting on Punchbowl last night. The trouble appeared to be over the rival candidacy of Castro and Silva for the Home. The meeting was fairly orderly except when these names were mentioned, and efforts to roast Silva quickly brought demonstrations of opposition. Stones were thrown at one stage of the proceedings and there was considerable hooting. It is said that there were numerous eggs ready for speakers in the outskirts of the crowd, but the presence of ladies near the speakers prevented the throwing.

A. Pacheco acted as chairman and introduced J. F. Durao as the first speaker. Durao spoke in Portuguese, being well received. W. O. Smith spoke next, saying in part: "I am glad to see so many people here, so many women and children. It is a good thing for the wives and sisters to attend the meetings and a good thing for the children, because it will be but a few years when these boys will be voters. I have been several times in Washington during the past five years and I have many friends there. I have had occasion to learn the people and I wish to say to you that it is the Republican party that has the influence. It was that party that gave freedom to the slaves. It was the Republican party that gave us our treaty that has been so much good for this country."

L. L. McCandless suffered some interruptions during his speech. He called attention to the fact that the Republicans had put the finances of the country in good shape. Chillingworth spoke for the ticket, saying that it was the Republican party that had made it possible for the people to elect their own sheriff and had given a liberal Sunday law. He said Castro had been fairly nominated and would be a credit to the Portuguese if they sent him to the legislature.

The chairman introduced Brown as the "most maligned man in Honolulu." Brown was given a good reception and his talk was well received. Brown said he regretted the Silva-Castro difficulty, but proposed to stand by Castro because he had fairly won the Republican nomination. V. O. Teixeira spoke in Portuguese.

Henry Vida said that he would fill the office to the best of his ability. He and the Sheriff had given them a square deal and he hoped they would get the votes of the Portuguese. He was satisfied they are good people and they should be proud of the fact that in but one or two instances had there been criminal charges entered against one of that nationality. He made due reference to the Advertiser in the fact that it had accused him of championing the cause of A. M. Brown. He was proud to say he would stand by a man who had some principle. "Iauka is backed by the Civic Federation and L. A. Thurston, and he did not think the Portuguese would support the human frog, Iauka, who is jumping from one political puddle to the other."

E. W. Quinn was received with applause and given three cheers when he finished. F. T. P. Waterhouse was also well greeted. He talked of land laws and good roads. W. T. Rawlins gave an excellent talk, which evidently had a good effect on the crowd. J. H. S. Kaleo spoke in Hawaiian. A. V. Gear got a mixed reception. He said in part: "I have been attacked for making too many promises. The workmen cannot keep a family unless they have sufficient money, and this is particularly the case with you Portuguese, who are the best citizens we have. If I am elected I will do the best I can to give you more pay for your labor."

Bicknell spoke next and then John MacCallino discussed Castro amid considerable disorder. He predicted the election of Castro and called down those who were interrupting. As this stage Pacheco tried to speak, but stones were thrown at him. There were yells for Castro and a fight started which soon attracted much of the audience. Two mounted police stopped the fight and restored order and then Castro spoke. He made an excellent address and apparently won many of those present. There much much applause when he finished.

At Kalihi the Republicans had a rousing meeting. Among the speakers was Mrs. Kikaha, a Hawaiian woman who made an enthusiastic speech. Sheriff Brown was warmly greeted. He called attention to the fact that he had always kept Hawaiians on the police force. "W. W. Harris spoke briefly, mentioning the fact that his physician had ordered him not to speak during the campaign. Chillingworth spoke for the straight ticket, urging Hawaiians to vote for all the Republicans, haoles and Hawaiians alike. Several other candidates made speeches.

DEMOCRATS HOLD TWO LARGE RALLIES

MEETINGS LAST EVENING AT MOILIILI AND IN PALAMA WELL ATTENDED.

The Democratic meeting at Moiliili last evening was well attended and the speakers met with a warm reception. The meeting was opened by prayer and Albert Kauwe presided.

When the name of Silva last evening was mentioned it called forth many cheers from the Democratic meeting. It was this name that caused the rock throwing at the Republican Punchbowl meeting last evening.

Charles L. Rhodes was the first speaker of the evening. The election of each of the Democratic candidates was urged and each were discussed.

Frank Harvey spoke at length on the various issues of the campaign. He referred to the attempt being made by the Republican speakers to force the Democratic county candidates to take up the fight of McClanahan. Among the other speakers were Charles H. Rose, Joe Fern, H. T. Moore, Manley Hopkins and Thomas Gandall. There will be a meeting tonight at Joe Aea's place at Waikiki when other candidates will be heard.

The second meeting of the Democrats last evening was in Palama. It was also well attended.

Charles Broad, W. W. Thayer, R. H. Trent and W. P. Jarrett were the main speakers. Jarrett got a warm reception and promised the electors to work for the proper administration of the affairs of his office as Deputy Sheriff, if they should see fit to place him in that office. He scored the machine policy of the incumbents of the sheriff's and assistant's positions and pointed out the lax enforcement of the law against certain disorderly saloons and the gambling element of the city as evidence of the way the duties of the heads of the police were being slighted by them at present.

"No doubt Pinkham would like the three parties to enter into an agreement not to send any speakers to the settlement," said a leading Democrat, speaking of the application made Wednesday for a permit for McClanahan to go there to make a campaign speech.

"The absolute control of the settlement is in the hands of the Republicans, Jack McVeigh, who is a past master in practical politics has everything there in the hollow of his hand. The Republicans do not need any candidates to go there to have their interests looked after. The Home Rulers, also have capable men there to see that every possible Home Rule vote is cast. It is only fair that the Democrats shall at least have their views presented.

"I will guarantee that if the Democrats secure the Territorial control of the settlement, we will be as willing as the Republicans are now to agree that no candidates or other speakers shall go to the settlement. We will be in control then.

"But Pinkham needn't roll his eyes and wring his hands in such despair over the matter. No harm can come. The speaking will be under proper conditions. It is something that the people there enjoy. It is something from the outside world. And two years ago, in spite of all Pinkham says, liquor was used over at the settlement in the interests of the Republicans."

HOME RULERS ATTACK PROMOTION PLANK

AT MEETING LAST NIGHT SAMUEL NOAR ATTACKS PLANK PROVIDING FOR PROMOTION.

"I do not believe in the planks in the Republican or Democratic platforms which provide for the maintenance of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. I think that money should be used for the schools. There are many places it could be used without spending it there. Let the merchants carry on that work if they like. It does not benefit the Hawaiian people. I mean you."—Samuel Noar, Home Ruler, in his speech at Kakaako last evening.

The Home Rulers held three rallies last evening but the largest of the three was at Kakaako in the Kumalea building where the Democrats drove them out a few days before. Over three hundred were in the crowd and it is said that most of them were voters. The other meetings were held at Moanalua and Puunui.

The speakers at last evening's meeting at Kakaako were D. Kalaokalani, Sr., Abraham Fernandez, Rev. Kekipi, John A. Baker, J. M. Poeppos, William Mossman Jr., and Samuel Noar.

There was no music or beer on hand. The workers at the Home Rule headquarters say that the party has not money enough for such purposes. They want to talk to the voters and that is all.

Samuel Noar was the only speaker in English last evening. He told the crowd how he came to accept the nomination for County Attorney. He had been in Philadelphia where the machine was broken up and he was familiar with the workings of a machine. He has always been identified with the party which fights machines and that is why he joined the Home Rule party. If elected it will make no difference to him who is county sheriff. If there is anything to be done there he will do it. He made the statement that Cathcart is in with the ring and will do nothing to straighten out the police department even if elected. Thayer is in the same class with Cathcart.

Mr. Noar attacked the plank in the Democratic and Republican platforms which provides for the maintenance of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. He stated that there was more need for that money elsewhere, for the school teachers for instance. He asked what good the Promotion Committee did the Hawaiians that they should provide money for its maintenance.

He also spoke of bringing the immigrants here to take the bread and butter from the mouths of the Hawaiians. There were 1325 on their way now and they would take many jobs away that should be filled with Hawaiians. Abraham Fernandez spent his allotted time in explaining to the crowd why he turned Home Ruler and why he was running on that ticket for Supervisor. He told of much alleged dirty work in the Democratic convention and scored their methods of carrying on the work in precincts which was not done according to the rules of the party. He asked for the support of the voters for the entire ticket.

Three meetings will be held this evening. One will be at Palama, one at Pauoa and the other at Moiliili. Tomorrow evening the big joint rally will be at Alaia park.

Egan's brilliant work in the Orient and latterly in England attracted the attention of the promoters of the Ridgeway, and his assignment to the editorship of the most important of their magazines followed. It is understood that the new magazine will deal with national questions and world politics, in which Egan is an acknowledged authority.
